

Preacher vs Teacher

A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways. James 1:8

What a child hears from his preacher	What a child hears from his (government) teacher
The Bible is the infallible Word of God	The Bible is a collection of fairy tales
Jesus is God in the flesh	Jesus was a man
Jesus died for your sins	(Crickets)
Government is an institution ordained by God to punish evildoers (Romans 13)	Government is an instrument to bring about social justice, redistribution of wealth and provide food, housing, education, health care as basic civil rights
God brings about righteousness, justice and peace	Civil government brings about righteousness, justice and peace
God wants you to control (govern) yourself	Government will control the people.
The cause of man's problems is his sinful nature	The cause of man's problems is lack of education, poverty and injustice.
In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth	Man evolved over billions of years.
Man needs a savior.	Man needs more laws.
Govern yourself under the laws of God.	You cannot govern yourself so will create hundreds of thousands of laws to govern you.
The way to live in this world is to work for what you want and need.	If you don't work, don't worry, civil government will take care of you.
Abortion is murder	Women have a right to abortion. It is a woman's health issue.
God designed marriage as the union of one man to one woman for life.	Marriage is whatever we desire it to be.
God defines the limits of human sexuality. Sex is to be confined to the marriage relationship	If it feels good, do it.
God created man, male and female	Categories of male and female are so old school. Define your own existence.
Parents have jurisdiction over the education of their children	Parents have limited influence but teachers, counselors and others have a more powerful influence

Granted, many teachers would not teach these worldview ideas directly. He or she would assume them, and teach, building upon these presuppositions. This is one reason students and parents don't always quickly realize that they are being indoctrinated in the Humanist, Marxist, or Atheist worldview. A perceptive child might ask, "Pastor, who is right, you or my teacher? You have opposite views on so many things!"

Surely we must know that "Any kingdom divided against itself is laid waste; and any city or house divided against itself will not stand." (Matthew 12:25)
