

Socialism-Recommended Reading

The following are recommended resources for teaching and learning about progressivism/socialism/big government and its opposite, liberty. I have included works on free market economics because these will help you to understand economics from the true perspective.

Middle School

Whatever Happened to Penny Candy? Richard Maybury and Jane Williams

High School/Adult

God vs. Socialism, Joel McDurmon

Ameritopia, Mark Levin

The Law, Frederic Bastiat

The Tragedy of American Compassion, Marvin Olasky

Government Takes All, What's Left for Me? Max Lyons

Economics in One Lesson, Henry Hazlitt

The Road to Serfdom, Friedrich Hayek

Understanding the Times, David Nobel

Rendering Unto Caesar: Was Jesus a Socialist?, Larry Reed

Primary Source/Scholarly

A Republic If You Can Keep It, Gai Fardon

The Christian History of the Constitution, Verna Hall

The Communist Manifesto, Karl Marx and Fredrick Engels

Sources of Our Liberties, Richard Perry